Introduction

Welcome to your Past Life report. Whereas the birthchart is a symbolic road map describing your current life, the Past Lives chart is a blueprint of your previous incarnations. The pages that follow will help shed some light on themes related to your past life instincts. First, let's talk about reincarnation which is the belief that the current incarnation (as depicted by our birthchart) is linked to the lives that we have previously led. This collection of past influences points to particular experiences you might encounter again so that you can further your growth and fully develop your creative potential. These past impressions go far in shaping many of our current thoughts and choices. There are certain gifts a person seems to possess right out of the womb! It's as though destiny or fate leads one to realize these attributes. Of course, we still have to show ambition and make the effort in order to keep our dreams alive. This report may give confirmation to talents that you already know you have or open your eyes to ones that you have yet to discover.

Our past lives are alive and well in our consciousness. This may already be apparent to you. But on the other hand, these experiences can lie beyond the threshold of our conscious mind's awareness. What is doing the remembering, if our mind isn't? Call it your soul, higher consciousness or whatever explanation feels right to you.

Have you ever heard about karma, that great law of cause and effect? An old timeless saying sums up the whole process: "You reap what you sew." There are actions and thoughts that defined us in other lives, or have guided us to where we are in the present. They don't really exert any control over us. We have freedom of choice. That's a strong message to remember when reading this report.

Also, don't panic if you read something that says you were not a perfect person. Nobody is in the current one! Use the report as a learning tool. The idea is to keep developing and evolving. It's balancing the cosmic rhythm of past and present that presents each of us with a challenge. Do we respond positively or negatively? With hope or doubt? Many of our tendencies are linked to previous incarnations. Certain patterns have likely been by our side over many lifetimes. As we grow and expand our awareness, it becomes very possible to step beyond the trappings of past life baggage.

No doubt you will read various sections that seem to contradict each other. Each could be true about you. It's important to realize that many different dimensions of ourselves live within us. Each of us is composed of memories from so many past lives, combined with an assortment of ways we have learned to deal with reality in this life, that make us complex beings. See which descriptions ring true to you as you read through the following pages. You will notice some traits described have a repeating theme.

I hope you find this report an enjoyable ride into your past life instincts and thought patterns. They are somewhere in your consciousness. Perhaps some of what you read will strike a familiar chord. After all, these pages are all about your past life loves, creative pursuits, adventures, travels, highs and lows, over many lifetimes. Happy navigating!

The Past Life Chart Structure

Some technical explanations about the Past Life chart (if you detest technical discussions, then skip this paragraph and jump right into the report!). The Ascendant in this chart starts with the sign on the cusp of the 12th house, instead of the traditional method of using the sign on the 1st house cusp, which is the sign rising on the eastern horizon at the time of birth. Also, the Past Life birthchart houses are counted clockwise, rather than the conventional way of counterclockwise. In other words, since the 12th house becomes the Ascendant, the sign on the cusp of the 11th house now begins the 2nd house, etc., around the chart wheel. What is considered the Ascendant or 1st house in the traditional chart becomes the 12th in the Past Life chart. Your planets remain in the same sign placements, but now occupy different houses, in this new chart. The planets in signs are interpreted in your report from a past lives perspective.

Something interesting to consider in thinking of the houses in a clockwise direction, they are actually now moving in the same direction as the Nodes of the Moon. As you will read in the report the Moon's nodes are strong past life or karmic points in a chart. Their retrograde motion is clockwise meaning they share the same life biorhythms as the houses of the Past Life chart. By traveling backward, or clockwise, through the houses, you are being regressed back into a past life analysis. Enjoy your ride down memory filled lanes!

The Passport

In this section are the first, middle and last names of your Past Lives astrological identity, the Sun, Moon, and Past Lives Ascendant. Each of these three building blocks will be discussed as to how they actively shaped many of your former lives. But before you meet these three key players, you will start your tour through memory lane with the North Node of the Moon. The North Node contains a special message about what was your overall life purpose. It was a constant rhythm pulsating in your consciousness to keep you on target toward your true purposes. It was a celestial compass trying to guide you to walk your talk with greater clarity. So sit back, and enjoy reading your past lives primer.

Node in Libra

You had a history of seeking relationships that maintained or restored your balance.

One of your key impulses was an appreciation of beauty. Your soul was normally eager to reincarnate, knowing the world offered a huge panorama in which to explore your love and aesthetic interests. The archetypal theme for your destiny was to be a mediator. A crucial lesson was to realize you couldn't please everyone all of the time. You tended to forget who you really were when distracted by so many different pulls upon you.

When you developed a deeper awareness of people, your perceptions guided you how to give and take freely. In other words, rather than being over accommodating, you became assertive for what you needed. A trickster was growing too aggressive. You became too self-centered. Finding a way to balance the scales of too much compromising with that of grabbing the attention back to you was paramount to feeling happy. You sometimes had to get angry or be a warrior to get results. You looked for meaning in finding experiences that mirrored back to you with clarity what you were seeking. Rushing impulsively into situations caused you to repeat the same mistakes. Walking gracefully, not necessarily slowly, with an inner assuredness, often attracted the right soul mate and circumstances that kept the scales near the middle of fulfillment.

Node in 5th house

What types of activities did you participate in that furthered your soul growth? Finding creative outlets big enough to express your vitality was essential. If you held back your inventiveness, you lacked the gusto to manifest your talents. A common concern was "how can I get my ability noticed?" When you didn't try to steam roll your desires over the needs of others, you managed to stay out of karma's way. What sorts of experiences motivated you? Falling in love was a big one! It always took you out of your worries. Another one was getting a chance to demonstrate your capability. When people showered you with attention, it gave you an extra boost. If you became too eccentric or egocentric, eventually your momentum came to a crashing halt. A youthful spirit that energized others was part of your past. When you let others feel free to reach their own potentials, this kept you on track as much as not giving your support alienated those trying to love you. Somewhere, always hiding in the caverns of your memory banks was a heart-filled generosity instinct mixed with a tinge of rebelliousness and independence. When using this wisely and timely, life was colored with a unique eye for progressive trends and a way of sniffing out those trails leading to reinventing yourself.

Sun: Creativity, Ego, Self-expression

Sun in Capricorn:

The sign of Capricorn, the goat, lighted the early-winter astrological skies at your birth into this life. Let's explore what significance this had in regard to your past lives. In traditional astrology the keyword phrase for Capricorn is "I build". You had a repeating pattern tied to ambition. Slowly and methodically putting together a plan for success was a regular theme. You were usually someone seeking the structure that allowed you to feel secure. Change wasn't really a welcome sight in past incarnations unless you were the one controlling it.

Archetypes for Capricorn include the leader, authority figure and self-reliant one. You normally attracted responsibility early in life. The sooner you realized that you couldn't always be in control, the happier you were.

The cosmic principle at work through many of your past incarnations was a reality oriented mind. This doesn't mean you never had a good time. You didn't trust possibility as much as the definite. Leadership roles influenced you to get good at managing your time. It was less stressful when you learned how to delegate. People tended to trust that you would do a job with conscientious effort. You found ego strength through gaining respect for the commitment you put into whatever roles you chose. Fear of failure was the greatest shadow. It held you back a time or two. You came into this life solarized through a sign promoting focus. This was a theme that ran throughout your incarnations and was a key to self-mastery. It was when you acted with flexibility and even a teaspoon of vulnerability that good fortune smiled upon you.

Sun in 1st House

You had solar power personified that put you in the limelight regularly in previous lives. There was a tendency to attract attention through your actions. Your creative vitality danced circles around everybody else. Receiving attention made you feel valuable. Those ignoring you didn't become your best friends. Greeting new experiences excitedly came naturally. Your will power was a thing in motion, needing several outlets so that you didn't steam roll over the needs of others. Leadership roles gave you a chance to show off your talents. You weren't all that shy. As a matter of fact you could become downright pushy! Waiting around for permission to be yourself wasn't your style. Confidence came when you didn't look back for approval.

If there was a challenge, it was learning how not to step on a lover or friend's toes when pursuing your dreams. The leader and initiator lived brightly through you. Occupying center stage was gratifying. Your self-expression blossomed when you found the patience to get focused. The world responded positively when you portrayed boldness, but turned a cold shoulder when you acted either too arrogant, or as though you had no determination. You found fulfillment when you walked your talk with a vision that was sustained by inspiration.

Moon: Sense of Security, Roots, Feelings

Moon in Scorpio:

You were lunarized at birth through the sign of Scorpio. What does this say about your past life tendencies? An instinctual impulse to be emotionally intense followed you from one incarnation to another. The family ancestries in past lives were linked by emotional intensity.

Your inner landscapes were colored with a detective-like nature. You made people prove that they could be trusted. Business sense sometimes was exhibited in the form of being a forceful negotiator. When you found the work that best suited you, it was common to put your soul into it. You didn't like to show your anger. It was harboring hidden resentments that got you into trouble as did power struggles. You tended to hide your feelings until really warming up to someone. Processing situations long after they occurred was a pattern. Investigating new subjects of interest was a joy. You made a good researcher with a probing psyche.

You preferred living in rural or remote areas. Privacy was highly valued. The taboos of society you understood, whether crossing into their terrain or not. You bonded deeply to those you loved, even fearing the pain that would come if losing them. You faced down danger more than once and grew up quickly because of it. When walking too near the edge, you learned that maybe there were safer ways to get your excitement. Your subconscious called to you to ask the questions others were afraid to face and to walk vigorously through your shadows into the fulfilling truth.

Moon in 5th house

You had intuitive power plus to pour into creative pursuits in past lives. The challenge was in knowing you had this gift. You were fortunate when someone helped or encouraged you to discover it. You instinctually knew when to take a risk that might provide you with a greater sense of security. You learned how to promote yourself or others when you found self-confidence. There was usually a kid-like dimension of you waiting to be expressed. Your accomplishments gave you a feeling of pride. You did have your share of ego clashes with others.

There was a need not to be too pushy in demanding what you desired. You needed a lot of room and freedom to express yourself. Taking hasty chances caused a major loss or two. Your moods attracted attention. Emotional outbursts were quite dramatic. The romantic in you wanted to be noticed. Falling in love was a "high" and a catalyst to moving into new directions. An inner feeling to make others notice you did become quite aggressive at times. Experiences that had a sensation of being big, and offered chances for tapping into talents appealed to you.

Ascendant: Persona, Identity, Calling Card

Capricorn on Ascendant:

With the sign Capricorn as your past lives Ascendant, a serious spirit colored your incarnations. You were often driven to succeed. The work ethic was your middle name. Your past lives attracted much responsibility. Another theme was when you were a hermit. Solitude was a desirable thing. People perceived you to be good at whatever you took the time to learn. You were fond of traditions that gave you a feeling of stability and meaning. You were very much defined through the roles through which you chose to express yourself. If you became too attached to success you suffered. Learning flexibility made life easier to accept, and you were more fun for others to know. You had a tendency to be a workaholic. It means you were driven and didn't know when to stop. You achieved great things through sheer determination. Patience was something you usually mastered. Giving into a fear of failure was a repeating challenge. You had a tendency to freeze up when needing to express feelings. Depression was a challenge. You had a natural inclination to feel responsible when something failed. You enjoyed life more when you accepted your own limitations, and developed positive thinking. You gazed out at the world through eyes hoping to have your tenacious efforts rewarded. It was always a key to happiness for you to flow with the changes that life sent your way.

The Quest

Mercury: Communication, Perceptions and Logic

Mercury in Capricorn

You were Mercurialized at birth through the sign of Capricorn pointing to pragmatic mental impulses in past lives. Your communication style was business-like and thorough.

You had a sense of the bottom line quickly after entering a negotiation. A too serious disposition did alienate people. You needed to exercise care that a failure didn't cause you to become depressed. There was a tendency to become too attached to success. Managing your time efficiently did allow you to get a lot done faster than most.

A lack of flexible thinking caused you to have communication difficulties. When you spoke with conviction and listened with an ear of sincerity, others warmed up to you in a hurry. You had a mental toughness that didn't let obstacles stop you. Your mental outlook was brighter when you took the time to enjoy the moment and found the confidence to try new endeavors.

Mercury in 2nd house

Your perceptions moved leisurely, giving you plenty of time to assess situations. This gave you opportunities to smell the roses and enjoy the scenery. What got you moving faster? It was usually a chance to enhance your earning power and to create greater stability. You calmly looked out at the world and didn't see any need to rush. Your mind didn't like to be hurried into decisions. Communication played an integral part in earning a living. You were talented in making business deals. Patience paid off royally. People generally found you a good listener.

If you grew dissatisfied with life, you did have a tendency to overeat or overly indulge to excess. When you found inner peace, you were less likely to chase compulsively after desires that got you into trouble. You were certainly a resourceful type. Some accused you of being lazy about your less favorite concerns. There were times you moved so slowly that opportunities were missed. You liked to know your ideas were perceived as valuable by those closest to you.

Venus: Relationships, Values, Comfort.

Venus in Pisces

With the love goddess adorning you at birth through the sign of Pisces, you came from past lives where you searched for lovers sharing your ideals. Many people experienced you as symbolizing romanticism and dreaminess. Your social instincts were shaded with a hue of mystery and intuition.

The ideal soul mate was someone able to accept your values and with a similar desire to escape from everyday reality. You were attracted to lovers that inspired you to be creative and to hope for a better tomorrow. A love of the arts in all of its forms was a powerful past lives emphasis. Your idealism was great and sometimes caused you disappointment when others couldn't live up to your expectations. When you realized it was impossible for you or others to be perfect, life became easier to appreciate.

Running away from responsibility was a challenge as was falling in love with individuals not having your best interest in mind. You did better after realizing it was better to give your time and energy to worthwhile people and causes. A desire for seclusion did move you occasionally to retreat from the world. Your romantic fulfillment depended heavily on seeking a mate with each of you dancing with one foot grounded in the world, and the other ever so ready to move quickly toward the most awe inspiring new horizons.

Venus in 12th house

You were dreamy when interacting socially, getting others to think twice about their own ideals. Love and certain causes pulled intensely on your heart. The search for a soul mate was strong. You were an inspirational force in relationships, getting others to believe in themselves. Romantics attracted you, as much as your truth burning eyes were noticed by them.

You didn't pay much attention to reality testing, trusting that love would be good to you. Denying the negatives did at times cause you sorrow. Your faith in loved ones did tend to help elevate them to great heights. Spiritual quests took you in search of a devotional life. You were sensitive and hated rejection. Some accused you of being an escapist, but your response was that you needed to pull away to find deeper contemplation. Your peers were an interesting group, sharing your beliefs. It was essential to learn who to trust. You could unrealistically believe in others. Guilt was another challenge. Feeling too responsible for the problems of others drained you. Helping fulfill the hopes of others made you feel good. You valued truth and a sense of unity. Helping those you loved find ways to make their dreams come true, meant a lot to you.

Mars: Assertion, Courage, Identity

Mars in Capricorn

What would a warrior planet in the earthy sign of Capricorn mean regarding past lives? You were scared to lack ambition, which found you making yourself take on new challenges. Fear of failure was a battle. However, you had a strong follow through when you were finally convinced that you had the right stuff to do the job. Your initiating impulse was to look first and make sure you wouldn't be rushing into a mistake. However, you could become a type "A" personality when you found the avenues that excited you. A competitive streak came alive when seeing a clear path to success. You were willing to fight adversaries to outdo them in the professional arena. You did display a reserved nature. When you let go once in a while to spontaneity, lovers and friends were delighted. Being rigid made you seem cold to others. Your warmth came across when relaxing into experiences.

Your identity was very tied to the roles you chose. Career and work were taken too seriously. You fought with authority figures when not respecting their judgment. As a leader you could be quite demanding. Anger presented you with a dilemma. It made you feel like you were losing control to show your displeasure openly and passionately. Yet you felt better when letting out your true feelings. Relationships took less out of you when you talked directly and with a listening ear. When you moved with openness to new options and with flexibility, you were a happier soul.

Mars in 2nd house

You took initiative when it came to improving your financial security. Your adrenaline got pumping when you were moving in directions that enhanced your buying power. A competitive side came forward if your wealth or sense of safety was being threatened by outside forces. Fighting to defend what you valued was a repeating theme. What made you become territorial? When people tried to infringe on your money or tried to limit your access to the resources you or those you loved needed for happiness and survival. You were aggressive and determined to finish what you set out to conquer. The more resistance you met, the feistier you became.

Desires did sometimes get the best of you. Too much of a good thing took its toll on your physical and mental energies. You were more successful when maintaining a balance between play and work. Impatience caused you a bad investment or two.

Assertiveness was expressed more openly when you were trying to get ahead. You didn't like to show your feelings unless you became very angry. It was usually when your trust in others concerning your money and property were being abused, that you became the angriest.

Jupiter: Knowledge, Expansion, Philosophy, Travel

Jupiter in Taurus

Having Jupiter, the planet of good fortune, in the sign of Taurus indicates you enthusiastically knew how to earn money. Saving it was another story. All in all, you kept financially afloat through knowing when and how to invest. You chose to expand your potential by making good use of your resources. Sensing how to better train yourself to increase your earning power was a solid part of your past. Knowledge that could be turned into profit interested you. You liked to digest information slowly when learning. A positive attitude brought you greater abundance. Luck came through a steady persistence in making a dream come true. Watching nature performing with its panorama of colors and landscapes was your silent meditation. You felt more confidence when you had the buying capacity to get what you desired for pleasure or comfort. Travel relaxed your psyche and made your problems seem less relevant. You enjoyed people with common sense. Teaching art, dance or music was a regular occurrence. When maintaining a broad perspective you got to experience the benefit of a wider range of differing perspectives.

Jupiter in 11th house

A positive and enterprising outlook influenced you to experiment with uplifting goals. The future pulled on you vigorously. Sometimes you wished you had paid more attention to the present, though there were moments when you regretted not moving forward quicker. Spontaneity was your lifeline to freedom. You had to know there were escape routes away from boring routines. Your insights sometimes shocked people. Groups and professional organizations benefited from your ideas. Your patience wasn't the best in being a team player. Being treated independently and equally were sensitive needs. You weren't always a revolutionary. As a matter of fact sometimes you opposed new trends if they were conflicting with your belief system. Travel elevated your mind above your worries. It had a way of exciting your brain to think with greater energy. Luck smiled favorably upon you when not afraid to walk your talk, whether the applause occurred or not. Good fortune came through a determination not to compromise your integrity and listening from your heart to hear those most inspiring new directions.

The Journey

Saturn: Ambition, Seriousness, Focus, Responsibility

Saturn in Leo

Ambition came through you with thunderous force, says your past lives history, with Saturn placed in the dramatic sign of Leo. Discipline followed after you plunged passionately into your most creative endeavors. You didn't like taking a backseat to anyone. Pride in your accomplishments was your style. It didn't hurt your feelings if people applauded loudly. The rub was when they didn't acknowledge your talents quickly enough. But let it be said you were willing to cheer on others in return. Your greatest fear was rejection. It devastated you, especially in romance. When you realized that not everyone would love you unconditionally, guess what happened? You found happiness faster.

A karmic shadow was being too overconfident in some lives, while lacking ego strength in others. How could both be possible? There were times when you steam rolled your desires over others. Then there were lives when you lacked belief in your ability to the point of hiding your talent. Finding that middle ground of inner faith took you out of this challenge. You often defined yourself through professions allowing you to exercise your full creative capacity, and as someone with an endless amount of vitality.

Saturn in 7th house

What was your main focus? It was relationships, whether romantic or otherwise. You consistently asked at crucial points during an incarnation: how do I develop meaningful and mutually beneficial partnerships? Knowing your boundaries in relating to others gave you a sense of control. Rigidity in trying to change others sometimes produced karmic woes. The antidote was greater flexibility in this area, that is, when you were determined not to repeat the same old lessons needing to be learned.

A shadow was trying to overly please. Indecision was the result. You compromised yourself to the point of becoming confused. Clear definition in your expectations of others, and they of you, was important. Life taught you to be careful about commitments in that you needed balance. A fear of love was not the way to finding a soul mate. Though leaning too heavily on someone might get you into trouble. It was in learning how to create stable unions that you discovered fulfillment. A major redefining regularly occurred in lifetimes associated with reality testing. You needed to ascertain who were true allies. Wisdom came through being reasonable in your search for the right partnerships, and in seeing you couldn't make everyone happy all of the time.

Uranus: Individuality, Goals, Uniqueness, Freedom

Uranus in Scorpio

You had a tendency to be secretive regarding your future goals, indicates Uranus in the sign Scorpio. Your mind did switch to fast forward when investigating the exciting possibility of new frontiers to study. It made you feel trapped when having to follow the dictates of others. You were careful when it came to finances. Impulsive spending and loaning money recklessly got you into trouble now and then. You didn't trust someone unless they fully respected your individuality.

Inventiveness often occurred in the midst of great turmoil. It wasn't when life was calm that you felt much brainpower to make major strides in stimulating life arenas. Maintaining a sense of direction was a key ingredient to your psychological well being and ensured that you would be ready to take full advantage of any new surprising opportunities.

Uranus in 5th house

In what way were you unconventional? It was how you went about expressing yourself creatively. Spontaneous outbursts of energy attracted attention. A futuristic vision came alive when you felt motivated to reinvent yourself through showing the world your newfound talents. Your goals were a key ingredient in keeping you young and full of vitality. A sense of direction was paramount to your success. It gave you self-confidence to keep on trucking in spite of the obstacles. Your romances were fast and furious. You didn't really enjoy long-term commitments unless you had a long leash. Freedom to answer to nobody was your preference. You did try to modify this when you fell in love or needed to get along with authority figures, though it was a test. You rebelled against anyone trying to label your potential. Being able to walk your talk by listening to your own drumbeat was a must. Stimulation occurred in the midst of promoting ideas and actions that made you feel proud. In not being able to compromise or growing suddenly willful you met a real test. Unorthodox approaches made it hard for you to fit in. You weren't real flexible. Communication breakdowns did cause your relationships a few ups and downs. You were inventive ferociously. The trick was getting disciplined. When you did have the focus, you usually found success.

Neptune: Idealism, Romanticism, Intuition, Dreams, Escapism

Neptune in Sagittarius

You believed in ideals that took your imagination skyward. Your idealism was awakened through traveling to learning terrain, foreign to your upbringing. A burning exploring nature guided you to navigate the deepest waters of adventure. Inspiring others to look for greater truth was a natural part of you. You did need to be careful in not getting lost in unrealistic aspirations. Education was boring if it was too ordinary. You had the intuition of a dreamer, but could get down to business once you found the roads that gave you focus. Romance was forever pulsating through your psyche. Lovers with a stomach for flowing with spontaneous chasing of a new cause usually went over big with you. You liked finding a romantic partner sharing many of your highest values.

A major challenge was not failing to finish what you started. You ran out of gas if losing interest in a project. Even with relationships, you sometimes thought going where the grass was greener was better. When you became a good finisher, people liked you. You wanted from the deepest part of your soul to be a person with a motivating message. You tried to create a lifestyle free of as much conflict as possible. You found transcendental growth through having the faith to leave limiting situations by taking the risks that promised a better tomorrow.

Neptune in 3rd house

In what way were you extra intuitive? It was in regard to immediate ideas. You had a knack for tuning into a plan that might lead to opportunity. You didn't like stressful situations so did your best to keep them from getting started. You could think with great sensitivity and insight. Your idealism influenced your perceptions. You weren't one wanting to be talked out of your dreams and hopes.

It was a test to stay focused when you became distracted by worries or trying to move into too many directions at once. This doesn't mean you weren't capable of concentration. It is just saying that you really needed your attention to be poured into a project before it could be accomplished. Discipline came through the inspiration of your beliefs. Your spirituality was where you drew inner strength and was often the filter by which you examined reality. You were clearer when you stayed centered, whether through meditation or a quiet retreat. You had a sixth sense when it came to figuring out how to adapt to new situations. This helped immensely in responding to a crisis. What was the biggest challenge? It was in not denying what you really knew to be true. You indulged in this behavior to stay in circumstances not so wonderful for you. Faith transformed your denial into a more on target view of better choices. You searched for a purpose that had the sudden potential to sweep you off of your feet.

Pluto: Personal Power, Self-mastery, Rebirth, Loss, Passion

Pluto in Libra

Empowering yourself through developing key relationships was a past lives tendency. Exercising tact and wise judgments often got you to where you were trying to go. Getting too attached to a lover was sometimes a downfall. Charisma was shown when you felt extra comfortable in social situations. Instincts for knowing just the right thing to say made you sharp in business. It was in making challenging decisions that you met your true tests.

There was a shadow. What was it? You could get too dependent on others. This took the edge out of your own sharp perceptions for knowing what was in your best interest. When you weaned yourself away from relying too much on a friend or partner, your life seemed more liberated. Self-mastery was reached through marketing your creative instincts. You found rebirth or a sense of fulfillment when refusing to say yes when you meant no.

Pluto in 6th house

How did you go about seeking personal empowerment? It was through cleverly adapting to new situations and being prepared for the inevitable. A renewed sense of purpose was discovered through finding the skills that released your true capabilities. You were thorough, but sometimes perfection got the best of you. Being a critic came naturally. You needed to tone down unrealistic demands. A powerful self-examination manifested after a personal setback in the areas of love, health or career. A compulsive tendency to worry got you to ask thought-provoking questions. A shadow frequently followed you into incarnations connected to being afraid to have others see your faults. When you got over this concern, you were more spontaneous.

Footnotes

You have already been introduced to the ten planets. Certain planetary pairs in your chart have a special relationship to one another due to particular angular distances separating them, known as aspects. You could say the two planets in an aspect travel and interact together along the same circuit. The following aspects will be listed under five types. Two are known as the soft aspects: the sextile (60 degrees) and trine (120 degrees). These two aspects generally point to more gentle themes, and therefore will describe past life trends that went very well for you. They indicate a lower voltage of electricity and produced less friction in your mind and through your actions. The planets involved in a trine or sextile are more likely to talk about areas where you flowed without much effort.

The more hard or intense aspects are the conjunction (0 degrees), square (90 degrees) and opposition (180 degrees). They required your best understanding in past lives. Planets that are part of an intense aspect you will notice often indicate lessons that must be learned, and follow us from one incarnation into another until we get them in balance. These higher voltage aspects don't mean the planets operated negatively, only that there was much more force behind them. "Soft" does not mean good and "intense" does not imply bad. It is often the more intense aspects that deepen our soul growth, that is, if we learn how to use their power wisely. If we don't it's like taking one step forward and three back.

It might be helpful to keep some keywords in mind for the aspects. The sextile represents Excitation and Eagerness. The planets in this aspect give clues as to how their energies worked in a stimulating way through you. The trine is a special Harmony. The two planets involved show you were confident of their interacting energies. The conjunction is where two planets are joined at the hip. There is a Fusion or powerful blending of these energies. The square can reveal where you encountered Friction. Pay special attention to these aspects in particular because they denote themes that are strong past patterns. Squares ask us to resolve their conflict by finding creative outlets. The opposition requires a Balancing act. It is similar to a seesaw. Gaining objective awareness about each planet is a key. Remember, it was usually the most intense aspects that stretched you the most in past lives.

Sun square Moon

Your needs regularly clashed with those of individuals closest to you. You often derived creative power from conflict. Expressing yourself forcefully made you feel confident. Holding back your talents limited your options. You were restless when outgrowing what a locality offered. You grew demanding when fighting to get your own way. Letting those you loved find their own leadership roles, was as vital as you courageously wearing the ones suiting you.

Moon conjunct Node

You relied on your intuition a great deal to make sure you were walking your talk in harmony. The natural forces of the universe tried to reveal their presence to you. Why? So you would remember that you were not alone. There was a protective energy around you, guiding you toward the paths that brought an inner sense of security. Romance made you feel more whole. Though you needed to be sure not to depend too much on others. You found balance through self-reliance. Staying focused on your objectives was the way to success.

Sun trine Jupiter

An anything is possible mind-set either led you to do great things or forget to consider the consequences. You were so likeable that people often forgave you even after disappointing them. A bright spirit that motivated was your style. You made a great teacher and trainer. Generous giving of your resources, often brought you in return twofold more than you gave. If you lacked determination, it was usually due to becoming distracted by other interests. When you got focused, you were capable of accomplishing great feats. Expanding your horizons was forever coaxing you to fulfill a dream.

Sun square Node

Your incarnations had a special emphasis on finding your own creative style. If you didn't, you weren't as easy to live with. You had a forceful way of making life respond to your plea for greater wealth and love. It wasn't in your blood to patiently wait for the world to greet you with open arms. An impatient streak sometimes was better channeled at appropriate targets. You needed many ways to release your energy. A damaged ego through being criticized or ostracized meant you had to find the strength to rise above these challenges. When you demanded attention, the world did listen. Though in simply acting self-assured they opened their ears even wider. Your destiny unfolded clearly when you met lovers sharing your similar need to live life as though there might not be a tomorrow.

Sun trine Midheaven

You knew how to work your way to the top. A smooth way with the public made gaining acceptance for your ambitions easier. Self-confidence came shortly after convincing yourself that something was worth pursuing. You did occasionally lack the drive needed to push a door open. Giving birth to particular accomplishments was an inspirational force.

Sun conjunct Ascendant

You never had a whole lot of trouble being yourself. People usually were influenced to be confident in your ability. Will power emanated from your face, as did drama. It wasn't like you to need that much encouragement before moving ahead. You took the lead in situations when others were still trying to make up their mind. It was important to you to be noticed. Your ego bruised easily, making you a bit bossy if not getting your own way. Radiant individuals connected with your upbeat personality. You could promote anything, it only took your interest. Advertising and selling an idea were deep in your soul. Professions letting you blossom creatively always brought out your best.

Mercury conjunct Mars

Thoughts flew through your mind at the speed of light. You could change directions quickly. Making sure you didn't jump to conclusions was a challenge. You had razor sharp perceptions that sometimes made others uneasy. Your nerves got on edge easily so you were better when not sitting and worrying for prolonged time periods. Patience was a test. Angry outbursts got better mileage when you learned how to better express this intensity.

Mercury square Pluto

You had a mind that could slice through any problem, like a laser beam. Mental intensity followed you into your incarnations. Sooner or later, you were faced with your shadows. Staring them down was liberating, running from them was limiting. You could be ruthless about defending your ideas. Whatever work you performed, it was thorough. A passion for your favorite subjects and pastimes caused you to accomplish great things. When you didn't stubbornly resist those wanting to know the real you, your relationships deepened immensely. You didn't trust many people. Transcending a painful past was occasionally the catalyst to send you toward rebirth.

Venus trine Uranus

You valued your independence and sought out those with a similar need. Staying out of the control of those wanting to take your autonomy was a natural response. Your friends were important to your goals as their encouragement helped you move ahead confidently. Progressive types made your heart skip a beat. You weren't necessarily outwardly rebellious, but you didn't run to sacrifice your freedom for just anyone either. You kept a special place in your heart for those individuals honoring your need for freedom.

Venus square Neptune

You expected the world to fulfill your dreams. It often did! When it didn't, you sometimes ran toward escapism. You had a romantic drive to find those lovers sharing your same dreaminess. What you didn't count on was meeting someone not able to live up to the beauty you knew was in him or her. When you did find a special soul mate, much was accomplished together. You often had the blessing of the muses in the arts. You were usually born with a special flair to intuitively be quite creative. Your emotions were tested greatly by love and the people you cared about the most. It was your faith in your values and a higher power that got you through the tough times. When you refused to look within for answers, you were miserable. Life was generous in that when you developed inner strength your ideals found expression. The trick was modifying the extremes. Maintaining a stable lifestyle was better for your physical and psychological health.

Mars square Pluto

Danger intrigued you. Taking risks was a high. If you listened to the wrong advice you rushed into reckless actions. When you put this raw energy to wise use there was nothing you couldn't do. You were a passionate person needing big challenges in order to feel alive. Self-destructive actions had to be watched. Knowing ahead of time which actions wouldn't get you into trouble came with experience. Allowing loved ones get to know the real you was scary, but liberating.

Jupiter square Saturn

Happy one day and sad the next. This was a pattern in some lives. You lived in extremes. Finding that place in between great joy and sober reality was the challenge. You had high expectations. Authority figures clashed with your optimism. You needed to be careful not to automatically dash someone else's hopes and dreams with negativity. The work world got you to pin many of your dreams on it. This worked fine when you were a success. It was depressing when you failed. Having beliefs that sustained you in the lean seasons was paramount in importance. You had a conflict when you dreadfully feared losing. Taking small clear steps toward a plan often delivered the best results. Not taking yourself so seriously helped. Learning to live in the moment rather than making delayed gratification your god opened the door to happiness. Becoming disciplined with an understanding that enjoying the journey was just as important as the result saved you!

Jupiter conjunct Midheaven

Success came through a positive attitude and faith. You didn't really strike others as ambitious, more easygoing. But when inspired you left people in your tracks. Procrastination was your biggest challenge. Having the faith and ambition to succeed came with determination. Having a positive attitude took you far.

Jupiter trine Ascendant

A life was a box of chocolate's philosophy filtered through your consciousness. You didn't like to look at the bad and ugly. It was the good that you noticed. Not becoming too judgmental was a challenge. Promising too much was another thing you had to be careful about. Optimism pointed you in new directions.

Saturn square Uranus

Read this one carefully because it has followed you into several incarnations powerfully. You were not one to follow the rules without expressing an opinion forcefully. Revolutionary ideas came often. Stability didn't come easily due to your unpredictable urges. A rugged inventor and creator of new trends you were. You often felt others didn't understand you, mostly because your ideas didn't fit into the status quo. You could be a disruptive force. You never liked authority figures unless they respected your freedom unconditionally. Responsibility was sometimes feared. Reconciling the need for liberty with the demands of commitments was a struggle. Sometimes you were surprised to see that stability wasn't that threatening. Knowing the difference between what experiences to embrace and those worth resisting made you wise indeed. Burning your bridges too quickly was troublesome.

Saturn trine Neptune

Ambition and imagination were in a groove for the most part. You had big dreams but didn't always pursue them. You enjoyed roles that gave you a sense of purpose. Facing issues made you stronger.

Pluto square Ascendant

Conflict or friction in being yourself was felt due to the manipulation by others. Fighting to be empowered was a repeating scene. You had amazing instincts to survive very tough circumstances. When you relaxed into your identity, instead of forcing others to accept you, miraculous things happened. You were your own worst enemy when giving into self-hating behaviors. Blaming others for your problems was a defense mechanism. You got so attached to people or objects that it was hard to face losing them.

Strength came through confronting your fears. Creative passion blossomed when you discovered outlets for a tremendous will power.

Just as the Ascendant in the Passport section that began this report was described as a sign serving a special purpose, each of the other eleven houses has a sign that helps define its meaning. What follows is a trip through each of the other past lives houses or environments to give you a view of additional characteristics. First are listed the keywords for each house.

2nd House: Comfort, values, money, ownership.
Capricorn on 2nd house:

You leaned toward the conservative side regarding finances. A fear of losing what you owned drove you to be extra cautious. You took responsibility seriously. Sometimes people found you too controlling of resources. Delayed gratification influenced you to be patient. You tended not to reward yourself enough for performing hard work. You believed in the saying about making money the old-fashioned way in that you earned it. Learning to show affection was a challenge. However, when you became comfortable with yourself, and feeling secure with your livelihood, you could reach out in a warmer way to others. It would have benefited you if you had scrapped certain plans earlier in their implementation. Rigid tendencies found you losing money and time. When you adopted greater flexibility, you were happier and easier to love. You placed importance on traditions. An earthy approach to life needed to be mixed with a bit of your intuition. Your strengths were staying power and reliability.

3rd House: Perceptions, learning, communication, insight.
Sagittarius on 3rd house:

A wandering soul sometimes you were. Your mind was on a quest for high adventure. Whether you had to sail the high seas or cross the tallest mountains, you wanted the challenge. Your mind worked fast. Adaptability you had. Focus was elusive. An eclectic grouping of brain synapses found you not always reasoning in linear fashion. Did you become judgmental? Yes. When you had a dogmatic outlook you were not as much fun. A broad philosophy was what drew individuals to you. You had more options when tolerating new ideas. Agreeing to disagree took you further than having to always be right. When you had to get in the last word, arguments ensued. You liked humor as it took the edge off of your nerves. An inner restlessness made concentration a challenge. You were a force in getting others to think more creatively.

4th House: Home, security, nurturing, roots.
Scorpio on 4th house:

People really had to earn your trust, as you didn't take this side of life lightly. Getting to know you didn't happen overnight. You tended to have a complex emotional nature, though this doesn't infer anything negative. A soul-searching type you were! You could be stubborn when you wanted things on your own terms. You treasured privacy. When you did trust your intuitive instincts, your creative power was much more readily available.

5th House: Self-expression, creativity, confidence, romance, risk-taking.

Libra on 5th house:

A romantic you were. You liked the experience of falling in love. Indecision as to how to best express your abilities was a nuisance occasionally. People brought out your greatest talent. You thrived on the meeting of the minds. Your lovers were often dramatic personalities. They could sweep you off of your feet when creating romantic atmospheres. You were ambitious after determining a clear sense of direction. You found creative power through trusting you had what it took to be a success.

6th House: Learning skills, work environment, perfection, diet, health.

Leo on 6th house:

Denying your self-confidence held you back. Making strong creative statements pushed you forward. Your work played a key role in your happiness. You took your jobs seriously. Sometimes there was frustration if you didn't get the recognition you desired. Finding the right stage that was big enough for you was the challenge. You weren't one to call in sick or take long breaks. Your health did get depleted on various occasions by not pacing yourself. You were a bit testy when it came to bossiness. Letting others express ideas freely took some practice. Patience was another area you had to work on. Learning humility was a test. Dead-end roles never did much for your patience. Skipping over details was a trait.

7th House: Relationships, marriage, partnerships, social awareness.

Cancer on 7th house:

Your relationships were deep and hard to forget. A search for emotional security influenced your partnerships. You had to watch out for being too dependent on others or someone relying excessively on you. Trying to live your potentials out through someone else backfired. When you did find a compatible lover, emotions were still intense due to the passion aroused. Working as a team meant a lot to you. You liked reliable individuals that proved they could be trusted. If your heart was broken or betrayed by someone, it had a devastating effect on your mental outlook. Emotional upheavals did distract you from your goals. You were very sensitive about receiving emotional support. People who showed they cared about you won your loyalty.

8th House: Power, joint resources, rebirth, passion, self-mastery.

Cancer on 8th house:

You displayed protectiveness of those you loved, and sometimes were too smothering of them with attention. Discovering your own independence was crucial to your fulfillment. You were not the easiest person to get to know. You tended to be secretive until really getting to know someone. You did enjoy in depth emotional bonds with lovers more often than not. You needed a partner able to deal with your turbulent moods, as they could swing back and forth dramatically. You had somewhat of a fear of betrayal by friends or loved ones. You were happier when you didn't worry so much about the motives of others. You showed an amazing ability to bounce back from adversity, turning negatives into positives. When you learned patience your long-range serious plans found roots. Being able to let go of the past challenged you. A sense of rebirth was found through finding a true love with whom to share your life.

9th House: travel, learning, philosophy, knowledge, optimism.
Gemini on 9th house:

If they had frequent flyer miles going back a few centuries, you would always have come out a winner. A gypsy at heart you were, even if you couldn't always race around the world following impulsive whims. The world was perceived to be your stage. Being a natural teacher, your lively intellect inspired others to want to learn. Your belief in ethics and morals made you a critic of those that strayed from the straight and narrow. Sometimes you did grow a bit judgmental. It was hard to out argue you as you could keep one thought ahead. A broad philosophical vision was typical of you. Did you always see reality clearly? No! Occasionally you took a leap of faith for better or worse. Sometimes it brought you good fortune, while in other instances you came up empty. Trying to move into too many directions at once left you frazzled. The drive to walk multiple paths simultaneously was heartfelt.

10th House: Professions, ambition, leadership, focus, commitments.
Taurus on 10th house:

You showed great determination for success. Sensitivity about your status was an ongoing concern. Your focusing power was usually strong. Being entrusted with responsibility a usual pattern. You often chose lifestyles that were sound in nature. You didn't want the embarrassment that failure brought. Staying in confining situations didn't make you all that happy. Moving slowly and deliberately toward your ambitions was your favorite pace. You did race to meet a golden opportunity occasionally. You liked being seen as someone who could shoulder responsibility. Saving for a rainy day was a life reality for you. Change was welcomed if it fit in with your needs, but not so warmly greeted when conflicting with your life. You leaned more toward honoring traditions than fighting them. Commitment to work was generally strong. When you grew too controlling people sought distance from you, physically or emotionally. You were at your best when sharing the spotlight with loved ones and making decisions that created win-win results.

11th house: Goals, individuality, freedom, inventive, progressive, unique.

Aries on 11th house:

Rugged individualism colored past incarnations. Waiting for someone else's okay to confirm your decisions was not in your usual thinking. You were easily angered when people opposed your desire to move in new seemed good.

Jupiter retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you had a challenge in not foolishly believing in the wrong things or people. When you were on target and accurately assessing situations, you were a dynamo of efficiency and inspiration. Another challenge was in the area of confidence. When you lost faith it took the wind out of your sails. The search for an expansive enough vision was an innate drive. People didn't respond as well if you preached dogma or grew too judgmental. When you kept an open mind there was less friction. You had a capacity to embrace a positive outlook, that is, if self-doubt didn't seep into your thinking. Another challenge was running too fast to where the grass might be greener, running away from facing problems. The optimist in you needed to know limits. When you walked with commonsense and put your ideas into worthwhile actions, the world had no choice but to eventually give into your needs for self-discovery.

Saturn retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you had much to learn regarding flexibility versus rigidity. These two opposites were a sore spot of contention. A tendency to get extremely focused when you enjoyed a role was a past pattern. You were happier when feeling in control of your life. Knowing when to show vulnerability and when to show a tough set of armor was wisdom indeed! Some thought you lacked ambition. What they didn't see working behind the scenes was your inner search to find professions and directions that seemed worth the effort. An inclination toward becoming a one-dimensional workaholic was a potential trap. Remembering that life was a multidimensional panorama made for happier times. There was a need to steer clear of icebergs that brought depression and feelings of rejection. Responding with courage to your commitments lessened your anxiety about them. It was in not letting fear keep you from the love and success you painfully wanted that you reached the highest of milestones.
