Astrological Midpoints

History of Midpoint Combinations

What is a Midpoint?

The use of midpoints historically goes back to 1200 AD when Guido Bonati, a famous Italian Astrologer, used half sums, otherwise known as midpoints, in his interpretation of a chart. More recently at the turn of the century, Alan Leo, a famous American Astrologer, used midpoints along with solar arc directions. I personally have no knowledge of the use of midpoints combined with the 90-degree dial prior to its use by Reinholt Ebertin and Alfred Witte at the beginning of the Nineteen Hundreds. The history of solar arcs on the other hand, goes back to Ptolemy who used primary directions in the second century.

A midpoint is the center between any two points, which in Astrology relates to the center between two planets and/or personal points, including the Midheaven, Ascendant, and the Nodes. This center point is the meeting of planetary energies that becomes active through the process of growth, relating to the passage of time. We relate to the aspects formed by the heavenly bodies through spatial relationship. This system as I mentioned earlier goes back to Reinholt Ebertin who, near the turn of the century developed this system along with Alfred Witte by taking a 360-degree wheel and breaking it down into a 90-degree dial. Ebertin believed that hard aspects created events in one's life thus; the use of the 90-degree dial became a viable tool for forecasting future events. Ebertin started by placing the planets into three sections -- 30 degrees for Cardinal Positions which include: Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn points; 30 degrees for Fixed Positions which include: Taurus, Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius points; and 30 degrees for Mutable Positions which include: Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces points.

This system can be seen on the 90 degree dial as 0 to 30 degrees as Cardinal, 30 to 60 degrees Fixed and 60 to 90 degrees as Mutable positions for the planetary points to be placed in accordance of their quality.

How to Use this System

This system can be used to add great insight into the interpretations of the natal chart through the use of delineation of transits, progressions, solar arcs and degree arcs. In fact it can be used in almost any interpretive form of astrology where timing is added into the equation. Timing is where this type of Astrology becomes very precise and accurate. The best way to use this system is to incorporate the natal midpoint along with the time that its energy becomes activated by directing the planets into the future. This is done by Solar Arc, which is the distance it takes for the Sun to move from one day to the next at the time of one's birth, which is approximately 59' to 1 degree 2', which is then added to the age in question. We can also use degree arcs, known as age arcs, which is equivalent to one degree equals one year, times the number of years old you are now and/or when the specific event in question occurred. It may sound difficult, but it's not once you become familiar with this system of delineation. When using this tool you will notice that I have included health interpretations along with dietary issues, which often come up when there is a lack of good nutrition or assimilation of nutrients. This can be seen easily through the activation of the natal midpoints on the 90-degree dial. Thus, I included medical interpretations in most of the midpoint structures.

Each midpoint structure has many meanings, so I have narrowed it down to the most important interpretation of each of them based upon my years of past experience. These interpretations are done in the higher and lower, or shadow manifestations. We are all on the earth plane of existence, thus no matter how enlightened we may seem, we still have to deal with our shadow. Many midpoints include births, health areas and transitions and only a part of what is said may apply to you personally. But on the other hand the whole interpretation may apply. I have included the positive and negative side of each of these midpoints so as to reach all probable outcomes.

Many times there will be others who are read through one's personal chart, since these people become the players in one's personal movie. These players include midpoints with:

|               |   |   |
|---------------|---|---|
| Moon          | = | Mother and the Feminine principal               |
| Saturn        | = | Father/Business Associates, masculine principal |
| Mercury/Mars  | = | Brothers and Male Relatives                     |
| Mercury/Venus | = | Sisters and Female Relatives                    |
| Sun/Node      | = | Children  |
| Venus/Uranus  | = | Female Friends                                  |
| Mars/Uranus   | = | Male Friends                                    |
| Jupiter       | = | Grandparents                                    |

Relationships include almost any midpoint, which involves the Sun, Moon, Venus and Mars combined with the personal points, Asc, Mc, Moon and Node and always be aware of the rulerships of these positions.

Your Birth Chart: Midpoint Combinations

The natal midpoints represent our birth traits, our strengths, weaknesses and potential for personal growth. Each midpoint could involve others who are part of our life's path. Thus, a natal midpoint may apply to family and friends as opposed to the energy being directed to the self. Likewise, the medical influences and health issues mentioned are often manifest by others in our lives as opposed to the self. The possible medical problems, as well as the "shadow side" of a midpoint may never become an active manifestation of the midpoint's energy when addressed early. Keep an open mind when reading the interpretations of a midpoint since they are geared to both the higher and lower manifestations of the energy, and be aware that medical references should not be treated as a diagnosis. Psychological or physical symptoms or problems should be directed to the appropriate professional for diagnosis and evaluation. The timing of the events indicated by these natal midpoints are activated by progressions, directions and finally transits as the final touch off point sometime in the future.

Mercury=Saturn (Concentrated Thought) Natal

Mercury and Saturn relate to introspection and concentration of thought since one has the potential to become deeply fixed into a mental pattern that is either favorable or not. Thus, depression comes easily and one tends to only see the glass as half empty. There can also be mental blocks along with difficult communications with the father and/or boss. One may have problems feeling as though they can't share their thoughts with a sibling, which could lead to a separation from the sibling for an extended period of time. There can be difficulty due to the inability of others to understand what is trying to be communicated and/or they just don't feel the same way, thus, direct and effective communication is most important, especially in the work environment. One usually has a tendency to be able to teach others what they've already mastered. Thus, there can be leadership ability due to having learned how to communicate in an authoritative manner as well as having constructive thoughts or organized thoughts. One can clear away a mess of papers by itemizing, collating, organizing, and simplifying one's self. On a professional level, one has the potential to put in a new system and perfecting it, thus, this relates to accountants and teachers. It also represents the working relationships with others and studying for a period of time, or even focusing on writing a long-term novel. Though, there's a tendency to be self-absorbed in one's own thoughts and to not hear what others are trying to communicate. Medically, this relates to breaks in the fingers, arms, hands, and collarbone due to potential blocks in communication over a period of time. Heavy smokers also have this, causing lung problems along with blocks in the nerves of the hands and/or problems with the disks in the low back; there may also be a lack of assimilation of one's nutrition.

Mercury=Saturn/Midheaven    Natal

Organizational abilities, attention to detail, concentration, and intention are some of the qualities manifested through this energy. All of these qualities are usually used in one's career pursuits. This relates to deep study and needing time alone to plan and/organize for one's future. With the misuse of this energy, there can be problems with people in authority through breakdowns of communications. Medically, this relates to lung problems, low back difficulties with the disks, intestinal blocks and/or breaks in the fingers or hands. This also relates to the father and/or a sibling's health that may encompass the medical areas mentioned above.

Venus=Jupiter    (The Contract)    Natal

Venus and Jupiter relate to what we value along with our philosophy and belief systems. There is usually abundance in one's personal life and sometimes one attracts financial gain along with the ability to attract many gifts from others. People with this have a great capacity to love others, including animals, and they have a love of religion and philosophy, thus valuing higher education. The love of foreigners, their heritage, and ethnicity are also part of this energy. There can be the ability to understand the legal system, since it relates to agreements that are based on the desire to create balance; thus, the marriage contract or legal agreement as well as giving bliss and happiness within our life. Many times there is the capacity to be easily understood by others as well as having a sense of abundance and joy when in relationships. One may also have an excessive capacity to feel along with the potential to over extend one's self on a financial level or to become wasteful of money and/or energy. Many gamblers who have the potential to win big carry this energy. This denotes appreciation of beauty through artistic pursuits, as in being an artist, and it relates to a person who likes to throw parties and invite people from all different backgrounds. This also represents having a legal decision going in one's favor. Medically, this relates to difficulties assimilating sugar; kidney problems; problems with the liver, due to excess; and, at its worst, hepatitis.

Venus=Neptune/Node    Natal

One may have a very spiritual approach, giving the capacity to love and be loved by another. It represents the soul mate or the beloved coming into one's life. There's a feeling as though one has known this person before in a past life, thus finding the idealized mate who has all the qualities and attributes that one is looking for. On the other side, there can be deception from the loved one, about other relationships or about personal resources, since they may be withholding or unclear about what they really have. Thus, it's important to know how to manage money well and not be caught in the illusion projected by others, especially the idealized partner.

Mars=Venus/Midheaven Natal

People who have a sensual way about them and can use that sensuality to attract new relationships of a sexual nature carry this energy. These new relationships have the potential to lead towards procreation of a child or other new creation. This also relates to being well liked with the potential to advance professionally due to acquired social skills.

Mars=Jupiter/Midheaven Natal

Making a big decision or being involved in legal matters is a manifestation of this energy. There's cooperation from others and teamwork now. One can be attracted to someone who is more of the physical, well-endowed type with lots of sex appeal. This also relates to the pioneering of new ideas in the work place, thus having a positive influence on one's career.

Jupiter=Venus (The Contract) Natal

Venus and Jupiter relate to what we value along with our philosophy and belief systems. There is usually abundance in one's personal life and sometimes one attracts financial gain along with the ability to attract many gifts from others. People with this have a great capacity to love others, including animals, and they have a love of religion and philosophy, thus valuing higher education. The love of foreigners, their heritage, and ethnicity are also part of this energy. There can be the ability to understand the legal system, since it relates to agreements that are based on the desire to create balance; thus, the marriage contract or legal agreement as well as giving bliss and happiness within our life. Many times there is the capacity to be easily understood by others as well as having a sense of abundance and joy when in relationships. This also represents having a legal decision going in one's favor. Medically, this relates to difficulties assimilating sugar; kidney problems; problems with the liver, due to excess; and, at its worst, hepatitis.

Jupiter=Uranus/Midheaven Natal

There can be sudden fame and good fortune. One can also speculate and win, as well as connect on a social level to others who are successful. This relates to the successful astrologer or anyone who is successful on the Internet, with computers, or anything considered high tech or state of the art. This is present when one enters or leaves college, as well as when one computerizes or upgrades software or information.

Saturn=Mercury (Concentrated Thought) Natal

Mercury and Saturn relate to introspection and concentration of thought since one has the potential to become deeply fixed into a mental pattern that is either favorable or not. Thus, depression comes easily and one tends to only see the glass as half empty. There can also be mental blocks along with difficult communications with the father and/or boss. One may have problems feeling as though they can't share their thoughts with a sibling, which could lead to a separation from the sibling for an extended period of time. There can be difficulty due to the inability of others to understand what is trying to be communicated and/or they just don't feel the same way, thus, direct and effective communication is most important, especially in the work environment. Heavy smokers also have this, causing lung problems along with blocks in the nerves of the hands and/or problems with the disks in the low back; there may also be a lack of assimilation of one's nutrition.

Saturn=Mercury/Midheaven    Natal

There can be a career that requires good managerial skills, or a career in accounting or keeping of books or records. One has skills with running a system or becoming a systems manager as well as having the capacity to be in charge of the communications within a company. Many times one goes through a lot of depression due to feeling that they have to be perfect all of the time, which leaves them thinking, "Is that all there is, only work and toil in this life?" There can also be separations from a brother or relative due to a difference of belief system.

Uranus=Moon/Mercury    Natal

One has a high degree of aptitude for many different subjects. There can be attraction to unusual or different types of friends where the common denominator is the ability to communicate in an avant-garde manner. Many times one's friends become family; in fact, they're usually closer than one's own family members are. There can also be connections with people who have a high degree of integrity or position in the community who can help one to advance quickly on a professional level. Thus, one has the capacity to make decisions fast, along with having a peculiar insight into the motivations of others.

Uranus=Moon/Saturn    Natal

To free one's self from a situation that was emotionally limiting is a manifestation of this. It means to escape captivity or to rebel over the domination of another, or to leave a loved one who held one back or limited their personal freedom. There's the desire to lead others out of captivity or from disparity. There can also be psychological disorders created in one's early environment due to a lack of stability. To relieve the tension that this brings, it's best to learn to stand up for one's self and not let anyone else dominate, thus creating order and stability in one's personal life by not moving around too much.

Neptune=Mars/Pluto Natal

One may experience the decision to shift one's goals and purpose, thus affecting the rest of their life. This can be a very beautiful influence, denoting great transformation in one's belief through awareness that there is life after death. Spiritually this relates to the desire to understand nature and how to transmute energy and unlock the mysteries of life.

Neptune=Uranus/Ascendant Natal

This is a very perceptive energy, giving one the capacity to be very clairvoyant and/or psychic. One may have aspirations to live more in a spiritual world. On the other side of this, there can be confusion created by a depleted drive and/or a lack of self-worth. The attraction to substances and/or a chemical imbalance and peculiarities in one's appearance relates to this. There is also a love of music, the arts, and the dance, which usually brings balance in other areas of one's life.

Pluto=Uranus/Node Natal

This is a highly volatile energy, which brings people together for a joint purpose; to grow and evolve into higher awareness of the self. There's also the desire to know what motivates one to do the right thing. One has the capacity to inspire others towards spiritual oneness, thus having a cause with others. On the reverse side, there can be losses that are shared with others which happen suddenly and without warning. Thus this is a transitional influence, which can come from an accident and/or through heart problems.

Node=Moon/Pluto Natal

The desire to connect with women of power, such as Wiccan women and/or a priestess, the woman who knows and/or the one who can perform magic is symbolic of this energy. There is the potential of being affected by and/or influencing the masses through the ability to emotionally connect with the feelings of others. One has the capacity to really know another on an intuitive level. This also rules transitions for a female in the family and/or there can be the birth of a power child.

Node=Mercury/Mars Natal

Connections with people who want to make a difference through their thoughts and actions are a manifestation of this energy. There can also be inspiration to get the job done quickly with the help of others. On the reverse side, there can be problems with arguments about trivial subjects that really don't make a difference in the long run and difficulty communicating with a sibling who usually likes it their way.

Node=Mars/Saturn Natal

Associations that come into one's life to advance them quickly are a manifestation of this energy. There is a desire to finish whatever one has already started with others thus, there is space to create new projects. The connections we make now help us remove old blocks or inhibitions that have limited our awareness. These limitations could have been caused by the actions of another. These are the people who manifest themselves as the petty tyrants in our life.

Node=Mars/Midheaven Natal

One can connect with others who have the same goals; thus attain their objectives through the help of like-minded people. This is a successful period in one's life when we share the gift's life has to offer. This also relates to a woman meeting a man with whom she may want to partner professionally or otherwise.

Ascendant=Moon/Neptune Natal

The place where one dreams, the bedroom, or the place where one goes to have a consultation with a psychic is symbolized by this energy. Neptune's function is to take one into the dream state, thus there is a tendency to lose connection to reality and there can be confusion created by seeing of spirits. On a medical level, this rules wasting away, sleeping sickness, the weakened immune system, or the inability to assimilate nutritionally. There's a tendency to be aware one moment and asleep the next. The best way to overcome the negative side of this energy is to not be affected by the opinions of others on an emotional level, thus developing more of a sense of self.

Ascendant=Sun/Pluto Natal

It tends to bring undesirables into one's life or people who aren't practical and are looking for someone else to foot the bill. Medically this relates to chronic fatigue, lack of energy, infection, along with sleep and eye disorders. One may also have the desire to help others less fortunate than oneself who have health issues.

Jul 31, 2006   Jupiter = Jupiter/Neptune   (Spiritual Journey)   Transit

When Jupiter and Neptune are in combination there is a tendency to create an awakening to universal oneness. It addresses our need to expand consciousness through our belief system and relates to the spiritual journey from within. It denotes the sacred sights we go to on the earth for a vision quest, or the person who seeks the application of higher knowledge which gives them more spiritual wisdom. There can be long journeys over water to distant countries, sharing beliefs and philosophies on life with others which are held in common or shared with foreigners. On the other side, there can be confusion surrounding one's belief system, thus becoming disillusioned with one's religious path. The personification of this relates to the defrocking of priests and/or ministers, along with the proverbial scandals of public officials and people who are ousted when it is discovered that they're not as spiritual as they portrayed themselves to be. This also relates to large rains and/or flooding, and people seem to take chances on speculation that end disastrously, so it's best not to get involved with the get rich quick schemes. Medically this rules toxicity in the liver and blood disorders effected by one's need to correct a belief that may be toxic, and physicians could make an incorrect diagnosis.

Aug 02, 2006   Saturn = Moon/Ascendant   Transit

Separation from others in the family or from the business family is a manifestation of this. It can cause one to feel depressed or confined when in this place. There could be slow maturation of the physical body and/or smaller features. One can either have beautiful skin or acne on the face, since this rules our face to the world. There is also a feeling of being limited by others or of facing the world alone. Usually there are unions formed now which have karmic repercussions or there may even be a marriage for security reasons. On the positive side, this represents a time of weight loss due to the lack of appetite or not being able to stomach the situation.

Aug 03, 2006   Moon = Moon/Neptune   (Psychic Intuition)   Progressed

The Moon/Neptune contains the possibility of extreme intuitions, which may manifest through the seeing of visions or even developing one's dreamtime awareness. One has the capacity to have no time or a sense of timelessness. One seems to live in a dream world, where there are no proper boundaries and many times the mother or the grandmother could have had psychic abilities. This also relates to a person who deals with hidden guilt or shame and/or having a family secret that, if not addressed, can affect the physical health. There can be many intuitive gifts, and there is a sense of motion or waves, thus this rules the dancer. One may also have the capacity to become famous due to having intuitive or artistic skills. The medical issues usually revolve around the stomach, breasts, nutritional assimilation, and the lymph nodes. This is a powerful influence; if used correctly, there can be altered states of awareness, which can be used to guide others. On the negative or misuse of this energy, one could become deluded and confused, thus living in a self-made illusion that, eventually could affect the health. The best way to use this energy is to develop one's God-given talents, whatever they may be.

Aug 03, 2006 Jupiter = Venus/Neptune Transit

The long lost love who lives a great distance away and/or who is unavailable at the present time is a manifestation of this energy. It gives a strong sense of fantasy along with writing abilities that could be used in a romance novel. There's a love of living near the water or traveling with a loved one to water, as in living near a lake, river, or ocean. One may also have an abundance of feelings or the love of art and an admiration of artistic pursuits. It represents love of nightlife and movies, plays, and the glamorous life.

Aug 09, 2006 Mercury = Mercury/Ascendant (Places of Communication)

Direction: Solar Arc

Mercury to the Ascendant relates to the place where we like to communicate or the place where one has their home, office, study group, or anyplace in which we feel a sense of comfort. This place gives one the gift of gab so to speak, thus, we are able to express ourselves with ease and also have the capacity to study here. This can also be a time when a relative is born into the family or a time of contact with a relative. There is a tendency to think a lot about one's own personal thoughts, along with possibly having a shy disposition. Thus, it's important to become familiar with the surroundings first, especially if one has to give a lecture or presentation. One also has the capacity to be a good listener. Medically, this relates to the breathing process, ruling the lungs and there's a refined intestinal track. So be aware to have a good diet along with the right nutrition. On the negative side of this energy, there is a tendency to worry about the little things, thus, not seeing the bigger picture.

Aug 10, 2006 Uranus = Moon/Node Transit

Joining a specialized interest group, like being with other astrologers, or having sudden experiences with others is a manifestation of this energy, along with meeting new friends or acquaintances. There can be an attraction to unusual societies and/or social groups, or there could be a birth in the family of an intelligent and gifted child. One can be suddenly attracted to someone, and just as fast become uninterested again. The lesson here would be, "Get to know who you are with before you invest energy in them."

Aug 19, 2006   Saturn = Saturn/Neptune   (Spiritual Teachers)   Transit

When Saturn combines with Neptune there is the decay of the old and the rebuilding of new structures, thus there is a bridging of one consciousness to another. During the last Saturn Neptune conjunction (1989), there were many bridges that collapsed and had to be rebuilt. One has the ability to go into a dreamtime state of reality and become a channel for information on other levels of consciousness. The highest manifestation of this energy is represented by a spiritual teacher who has great wisdom, developed over a period of lifetimes, to share with humanity. On the other side, there can be problems within one's work or partnerships due to fraud or deceit. There is also a tendency to dissolve dreams, causing a feeling of great depression which could result in substance abuse or drug poisoning; this can also affect the father in all of the above issues. There can be a lack of timing and or a feeling of not being in touch with reality. Medically, this rules bone disintegration, as in tooth decay, arthritis, broken toes, and/or foot disorders, along with bone diseases and cancer, due to its wasting away effect. It's also present with alcoholism and drug abuse, which is of a habitual nature.

Aug 19, 2006   Saturn = Mercury/Neptune   Transit

The process of coming out of the illusion and facing one's fear of the unknown are influenced by this energy. Professionally, there can be betrayal on the part of a partner, as well as meeting up with one's karma from past lives. There can be much depression due to years of hardship or taking care of someone who has had a long-term illness. There can also be a feeling as though one has been all alone without anyone who understands them, or the feeling of being spiritually bankrupt. On a positive level, one could have the ability to share spiritual words of enlightenment, which can help to save someone from their great sadness, such as being a substance abuse counselor. The best way to deal with this is through meditation, thus connecting to a higher source of consciousness.

Aug 22, 2006   Jupiter = Sun   (The Opportunity)   Transit

The Sun represents the self and Jupiter is success; thus Sun/Jupiter combinations seem to bring out success through one's philosophy on life. It attracts one to religion and/or subjects dealing with the philosophy behind worshiping something greater than the self. Each of us seeks out the purpose of life and how we fit into it. This relates to having lots of fun and expansion and it's considered one of the most advancing times of one's life. People who are born into wealth carry this energy and/or this can be a time where one could create wealth and success for themselves. This is also a time when people travel and/or have contact with foreigners. It represents being able to relate on a big level, thus expanding into many opportune areas in life. Joy for life and expansion of the self are expressions of this, as well as putting one in a high social group within the community. It relates to the seasoned traveler or author. There can be the birth of a Sagittarius or Jupiter's child who is optimistic and looks at the glass half full as opposed to half empty. This rules grand parents, especially if they leave an inheritance to their offspring. This also gives the potential for success when dealing with foreigners and/or foreign products. The medical areas are the hips, thighs, liver, blood, and hepatic system.

Aug 24, 2006 Moon = Ascendant (Emotional Body) Progressed

The Moon to the Ascendant relates to our image in the outer world, or what we look like to others. It reflects our inner emotional issues to the world, there is no hiding with this -- "What you see is what you get." This relates to our refection in the mirror and seeing how our emotions affect one's appearance. This denotes the meeting and bonding of women of like minds or the relationships that are formed with people who share mutual interests. It connects one to women in the family, especially the mother and grandmother, and relates to the siblings and relatives we associate with. The place where the family lives or the place where one connects with their soul group is represented by this energy. One has the capacity to reflect back difficult health issues to others, which may have been created through their early environmental circumstances.

Aug 24, 2006 Saturn = Neptune/Midheaven Transit

One feels as though they aren't getting ahead due to feeling limited within their home or work environment. There can also be problems through others in the career setting, with the potential for gradual loss of employment, or just getting bored doing the same old thing. There can be fraud on the part of a business partner and/or deception within one's profession. Medically, this rules problems for the father, especially with substances, or there could be a disease which seems to limit one's ability to move. Thus this relates to arthritis, bone diseases, and potential psychological dilemmas created through one's early environment.

Aug 25, 2006 Moon = Sun/Pluto Progressed

This energy relates to the therapist and/or going to a counselor for therapy regarding a behavior that is habitual. On the positive side, there is a desire to pursue new emotional patterning and/or the beginning of new habits. Many times there are losses in the family and/or losses through transitions. There can be a birth of a child that could be the first and/or the last one born into a family. This relates to moving into a new home, which could end up being the last move one ever wishes to make for a long period of time. On its highest level, this relates to the Shamanic healer who works with Goddess energy, enhancing the feminine archetype. Medically this rules breast surgery and augmentation, such as reduction and/or enlargement, and it also relates to psychological dilemmas caused by early environmental conditioning.

Aug 28, 2006 Saturn = Saturn/Ascendant (Restricted Environment) Direction: Solar Arc

With Saturn in combination with the Ascendant there is a feeling that our environment is limiting us and/or that we have restricted one's self due to one's personal patterns. One can have a strong sense of timing along with the desire to succeed in whatever one does, due to feeling that one's life should have purpose. This relates to maturing and/or being aged by the world around us. Thus, one begins to look within the self for a sense of balance, which can be done through meditation. There can be an attraction to a relationship that could test one's values, especially if one decides to partner with them. Old souls come to the earth plane to teach others the lessons they have learned in previous lifetimes.

Medically, there can be either beautiful skin or acne created by too much acid in the system. There can also be breaks in the skeletal system along with tooth decay.

Sep 02, 2006    Uranus = Midheaven/Ascendant    Transit

Thus, this changes one's overall identity and the way one is viewed by others. There can also be a major move from one location to another. Medically, this causes spasms, circulatory problems, and issues surrounding electricity.

Sep 06, 2006    Jupiter = Moon/Ascendant    Transit

The place of higher learning, college or university, is represented by this energy. There is usually happiness and the ability to expand in one's environment. One has the potential for success in life due to inheritance or the family's influence in the community. Many times one could be born into wealth and/or affluence. This denotes optimistic people who look at the glass as half full as opposed to half empty. There can be a move away from one's birth location and/or there could be moving to a foreign country. Since this is known as a time of great expansion, it's important that one is conscious of the potential weight gain that this energy can bring.

Sep 07, 2006    Saturn = Node/Ascendant    Transit

There is a desire to separate from others and go into seclusion. There's also a tendency to harden one's feelings, thus building walls for protection. Early life is usually difficult since one may have to be responsible for others within the environment. This is a character builder, though, giving one a sense of being able to withstand whatever life has to offer. One has a good sense of timing with this; in fact, they usually arrive early, but there's difficulty interacting with others once they're there, due to early environmental circumstances. One's early environment could make them the stand-alone type. Medically, this tends to cause ailments that limit, as in arthritis, bone problems due to lack of calcium assimilation, problems with the teeth, and difficulties with the eyes. This also manifests as the gaining of insight after a period of darkness in one's inner life.

Sep 14, 2006    Saturn = Moon/Mars    Transit

This addresses family and/or personal difficulties surrounding repetitious behavior that causes problems for everyone involved. There can be breakups in a relationship due to emotional blocks and/or emotional instability created through the lack of early positive conditioning within the environment. Emotional repression that effects one's position in life, and possibly even the career, is a manifestation of this. It also relates to having the capacity to run the family business, or turning one's home into a business and/or making repairs on the family home.

Sep 17, 2006    Saturn = Mercury/Ascendant    Direction: Solar Arc

One may have a stable way of thinking, putting the logical mind first; thus, one seems to live more in a state of reality than fantasy. There is an ability to plan the future and stick to a rigid, strict way of thinking. On the negative side, one may feel as though they are caught in a depressing situation that leaves them with no way out. Thus, there is a tendency to feel as though one can't share their thoughts with others, since one feels that others just wouldn't understand, or even worse -- they just don't want to hear it. Many times people feel limited in this place and there can be difficulties with relatives at this time which may have been created through habitual patterns.

Sep 17, 2006    Saturn = Sun/Neptune    Transit

One can dissolve old structures by the rebuilding of new ones. This represents the bridge of consciousness created when we follow our spiritual path. It can also represent a physical bridge over a body of water; thus, on a psychological level, this relates to a bridge over troubled waters. On the negative side, there can be issues surrounding desertion and/or substance abuse on the part of the father. On a professional level, there can be betrayal within the work environment or a slow disintegration of the business. Medically this weakens the immune system, thus causing a wasting-away effect. This rules the potential cancer of one's philosophy, thus manifesting as liver disease caused by the lack of good judgment. There can also be tooth decay, osteoporosis, and weakened bones due to poor assimilation of calcium. It's important to have clear intent along with sound values as one's guide through life.

Sep 19, 2006    Jupiter = Saturn/Neptune    Transit

One has a sense of purpose when it comes to the belief system, and this relates to involvement in a religious order. Thus one may have high ideals and a sense of integrity. On the negative or misuse of this energy, there can be corruption within institutions through fraud committed by those in authority, and many religious evangelists came to their downfall under this. This also has toxic implications, as in it relates to ailments like the flu which effect large amounts of the population at once. Medically these rule pneumonia or lung diseases, so get a check up early and start doing pranayama, the yogic deep breathing technique facilitating in balanced health.

Sep 19, 2006    Uranus = Mercury/Ascendant    Transit

Thus, there is a rebellious quality to the way one expresses the self. This also relates to a sibling who may be intelligent yet a rebel at heart. Many geniuses have this energy, denoting their ability to have self-referral and channel thought. This also relates to clairvoyants and astrologers, and anyone in the high tech industry who uses advanced forms of communication. The energy in this location can be highly volatile, or there can be problems with electricity or lightening in this place.

Sep 19, 2006    Jupiter = Mercury/Neptune    Transit

The fictional writer, spiritual teachers, preachers, priests, shamans, and healers who share their beliefs with others to help them to heal themselves are influenced by this energy. It also relates to people who tap into a higher state of consciousness and have the capacity to relate that information to the masses. This is considered an inspirational influence where there's a state of blissful awareness. On the negative side of this energy there is a tendency to con or be conned through belief. Medically this relates to the lungs, with mucus or water build up and/or asthma.

Sep 20, 2006    Uranus = Saturn/Ascendant    Transit

Separations from others due to the need to break away from the old patterns is a manifestation of this energy. It gives one a unique appearance, looking different from others and creating one's own style. One also likes being separate from the momentum, not wanting to follow anyone but one's self. There can be difficulty working with others because one likes to do it their own way. Medically, this creates lots of energy going up the spine all at once, giving a feeling of disorientation; thus, spinal difficulties can result from this excess energy. A resolution to this might be to do yoga, thus becoming more flexible inside and out.

Sep 23, 2006    Jupiter = Neptune/Midheaven    Transit

There can be a love of philosophy, religion, and sharing one's beliefs with others, thus having a desire to share what one has learned on a spiritual level. One may desire to gamble on life and/or with their money, since this relates to speculation. There can be a love of travel or a love of traveling to distant foreign places. There's also a tendency to have grandiose schemes and not always living in the present, with a tendency to live in dreamtime. Medically this rules blood disorders and liver problems.

Sep 29, 2006 *    Moon = Saturn/Uranus    Progressed

Tearing down of the old structures and the rebuilding of new emotional patterns that support one's new life style is a manifestation of this energy. Women who have a need for personal freedom through their expressions and creativity are represented by this energy, thus forming and building new bonds in the community. There is also a tendency to let go of friends who do not support one's new free way of thinking.

Oct 01, 2006 *    Moon = Mercury/Uranus    Progressed

An emotional shock in early life, or an unstable home life resulting in many moves, is a manifestation of this energy. There can be disconnection from the family as well as having the ability to mentally control one's emotions, mainly because of being detached from one's feelings. There can also be many projects and a sense of confusion surrounding loss of paper work. One may feel that there are many changes in friendships that affect their sense of stability. One may have to relate to unstable females in their life who are changeable, moody, and/or confused. The positive use of this energy would be to get away by oneself for a while and leave the family issues behind.

Oct 02, 2006 Jupiter = Node/Ascendant Transit

Many fortunate contacts and associations can come in, bringing influential people into one's life that can change it for the better. This rules traveling and/or learning with others, connecting people together to attain higher knowledge. Many people who have a fortunate turn in their life's circumstances have this, as well as people who were born into prosperity, an economically secure family, or who have the ability to manifest success through their own talents.

Oct 03, 2006 Jupiter = Jupiter/Midheaven (Successful Business) Progressed

Jupiter, when in combination with the MC, gives great success within one's career along with potential opportunities to expand and move up in the world. This energy relates to heights, thus one could reach their career heights under this influence. People may move from one location to another, which denotes moving to a larger home and/or work or to another country. Usually there can be opportunities laid out by a grandparent and/or the inheriting the family business. People who do a lot of travel for business, especially to foreign lands, have this, and they seem to do well when in business with or for foreigners. On a medical level this relates to a successful outcome to the diagnosis and it denotes the prominent doctor.

Oct 05, 2006 Neptune = Jupiter/Node Direction: Solar Arc

One has a high degree of intuition, having psychic gifts and/or connecting one with people who have perceptive abilities in the area of the creative arts. On the shadow side or misuse of this energy, there can be dealing with people who are substance abusers or who have problems being in the present reality, thus they choose a reality that drains them energetically, as in alcoholism. Sometimes this points to health issues for someone close, and there could be confusion as to what is really wrong with them medically.

Oct 06, 2006 Jupiter = Moon/Mars Transit

It gives one a unique appearance, looking different from others and creating one's own style. One also likes being separate from the momentum, not wanting to follow anyone but one's self. There can be difficulty working with others because one likes to do it their own way. Medically, this creates lots of energy going up the spine all at once, giving a feeling of disorientation; thus, spinal difficulties can result from this excess energy. A resolution to this might be to do yoga, thus becoming more flexible inside and out.

Jan 16, 2007    Jupiter = Venus/Mars    Transit

People with this can have a strong sensual philosophy or belief system about relationships, as well as a happy sexual relationship. There can be many fun times with people from other cultures or nationalities. Lots of sexual activity is one of the manifestations of this, as well being a person who is lucky in love. There is an ease in getting what one wants, especially when it comes to love and money.

Jan 17, 2007    Uranus = Mercury/Ascendant    Transit

One may have a very bright and highly intelligent way of thinking, although there is a tendency to think individually -- not the same as the masses. Thus, there is a rebellious quality to the way one expresses the self. This also relates to a sibling who may be intelligent yet a rebel at heart. Many geniuses have this energy, denoting their ability to have self-referral and channel thought. This also relates to clairvoyants and astrologers, and anyone in the high tech industry who uses advanced forms of communication. The energy in this location can be highly volatile, or there can be problems with electricity or lightening in this place.

Jan 20, 2007    Jupiter = Saturn/Ascendant    Transit

Moving up in the world due to opportunities that take one out of their former limitations is a manifestation of this energy. There's a desire to move from a smaller home to a larger one. This relates to people who have come from a limited, confined position early in life, with little joy or happiness. Thus this gives one the capacity to value hard work and saving for that potential rainy day. Medically this relates to the liver, so be sure to drink lots of water.

Jan 21, 2007   Jupiter = Mercury/Ascendant   Transit

These are the optimists of the zodiac, looking at most things as positive. There is a love of other cultures, thus a person usually travels a lot and wants to share their experiences with others. One also has the capacity to be a good teacher and/or present their beliefs to others or be in the ministry. There is usually a grandparent who could have influenced one's philosophy on life and possibly there is a foreign heritage. This is a good time to negotiate and sign agreements, as well as a good time to speculate. Another manifestation of this is to have a quite successful sibling.

Jan 21, 2007   Neptune = Node/Ascendant   Transit

There can be interest in furthering one's spiritual development by joining groups that share your interests. It tends to bring undesirables into one's life or people who aren't practical and are looking for someone else to foot the bill. Medically this relates to chronic fatigue, lack of energy, infection, along with sleep and eye disorders. One may also have the desire to help others less fortunate than oneself who have health issues.

Jan 21, 2007 *   Neptune = Venus/Node   Direction: Solar Arc

These are the relationships that help to advance the soul through spiritual awareness. They are the associations that add a spiritual dimension to one's life, along with a psychic connection. On the negative side, one could meet people who test their sense of reality, as well as people who have the potential to betray. It's important to know the person one connects with before one gives their most valuable asset: their love.

Jan 24, 2007   Jupiter = Midheaven/Ascendant   Transit

One wants to expand their physical reality though their environment or through their physical body. This could be a good thing and/or it could lead to over expansion or weight gain. On the whole this is a popular, successful time in one's life where there is a lot of personal joy and sharing of one's prosperity with others. There's a desire to travel and enjoy the fruits of one's labor. Many people who have been born into abundance have this, as well as people who have financial success.

Jan 25, 2007   Saturn = Pluto/Ascendant   Transit

This tends to make one feel confined within their environment, and it seems to make one stay in one location for long periods of time. There's a tendency to have a more serious quality to the personality; thus, this builds character and stamina with the capacity to withstand the storm. This relates to caring for a parent and/or a person who has health issues for an extended period of time. Medically, this tends to confine and limit, thus this denotes arthritis, bone disease, and any disease that is considered chronic, and it relates to tooth extractions.

Jan 30, 2007 Jupiter = Moon/Node Transit

A group of women discussing their beliefs and philosophy on life is represented by this energy. It's the loving and nurturing family and/or grandmother. There is an attraction to philosophical groups whom we can connect with and where one has community. One could also join a new religion or church group. There can be happiness through one's connections and enjoying prosperity with others. This also relates to travel which can take one to distant places to see one's homelands and/or to be with one's family group.

Jan 30, 2007 Uranus = Midheaven/Ascendant Transit

There can be sudden changes in one's circumstances, along with new and different people that can come into the environment, including a new love interest. Thus, this changes one's overall identity and the way one is viewed by others. There can also be a major move from one location to another. Medically, this causes spasms, circulatory problems, and issues surrounding electricity.

Feb 09, 2007 Neptune = Moon/Mars Transit

The intuitive woman who takes initiative and can react quickly when needed is influenced by this energy. It relates to emotional sensitivity and/or an emotionally sensitive situation. It also denotes family secrets or the hiding of one's nature from others, or being deceived, deceptive, or confused. There can also be the influence of women who are substance abusers or have psychological disorders. On a positive level, this relates to the athlete who loves to swim or do water sports, and or there is a potential for water problems in the home or the need for a new water heater.

Feb 12, 2007 Jupiter = Sun/Ascendant Transit

There can be the expansion of the self and the awareness of how the environment affects one's health. People who have this desire to travel great distances and seldom live in the place in which they were born. It gives a happy personality along with a strong philosophy on life, which gives the capacity to be the eternal student. A grandparent usually plays a strong role in early life due to their philosophical influence, thus one's personal heritage becomes a vital factor in early development. This also has a tendency to put on weight and girth due to the need to expand on all levels of consciousness, including the physical. Great wealth and abundance are the outcome of this, since one has the ability to connect with others who are in a position of influence and power. Each person's sense of wealth is relative to his or her own personal situation, though.

Feb 16, 2007 Uranus = Moon/Node Transit

Joining a specialized interest group, like being with other astrologers, or having sudden experiences with others is a manifestation of this energy, along with meeting new friends or acquaintances. There can be an attraction to unusual societies and/or social groups, or there could be a birth in the family of an intelligent and gifted child. One can be suddenly attracted to someone, and just as fast become uninterested again. The lesson here would be, "Get to know who you are with before you invest energy in them."

Feb 21, 2007 Neptune = Sun/Neptune (The Dream) Transit

The Sun/Neptune on its highest level relates to the spiritual self and finding that spiritual light within each of us. It represents attraction to highly spiritual and enlightened people with whom we feel a love bond. This gives the capacity to become enlightened and highly evolved on a spiritual level, thus taking one into a dreamtime state of awareness or altered states of consciousness. People with this have enhanced creativity in dance, music, the arts, and/or psychic abilities; it could even bring a spiritual teacher into one's life. It also gives one the ability to meditate for extended periods of time, and/or having the capacity to be a medium, with the ability to see spirits and auras. It relates to seeing the highest potential of a person and later finding out that what one originally saw was only a projected illusion, thus this represents projections. On the negative side, there is the potential to present a false identity to others. It may also be lying to oneself or not being able to see oneself in the correct light, thus burying one's head in the sand. There is also a tendency to avoid reality, sometimes until it's too late, as in gambling and having great losses. There can be an attraction to addictive substances, like alcohol, that shift reality into an altered state, which can age the body due to the poisonous nature of the substances. This relates to attraction to a mate either with addictive behavioral issues and/or psychological dilemmas. There can be picking someone who becomes an actor in one's movie, who has co-dependency issues, thus becoming part of one's illusionary behavior. All of these relationship issues are designed to promote self-referral along with the ability to focus on personal self-development. Secrecy, privacy, betrayal, and abandonment issues are part of the illusions we use to eventually find one's spiritual path. Psychological dilemmas created by negative patterning can also result in one not seeing themselves clearly with this. Medically this rules paralysis, the weakened heart, the feet, immune system, lymphatic system, parasites, water retention, and addictions to prescribed medications, which cause chemical imbalance and/or allergic reactions within the body.

Feb 25, 2007 Jupiter = Mars/Saturn Transit

A person wants to expand but they can't because they are limited by the reality of the situation. Thus one will try to expand their reality, but they don't have the wherewithal to make it happen, so progress becomes delayed. One may try to grow when the situation has not matured through the test of time. Most advancement starts with baby steps prior to taking the big leaps, which could change one's financial future. There's a need to deal with the limitations created by past actions before one can start to move forward on their journey of expansion. "Do not pass go, go directly to jail, and do not collect $200.00" is an image that this energy can apply directly to the monopoly game of life.

Feb 25, 2007 Jupiter = Mercury/Mars Transit
